

FOUR ARE INJURED IN SERIES OF ACCIDENTS

HEALTH NURSE APPOINTED AT BOARD MEETING

Miss Frances Markovich Succeeds Miss Elizabeth Steer

APPOINTEE FILLS UNEXPIRED TERM

Trained at Charity Hospital School in Cleveland

Miss Frances Markovich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Markovich of S. Lincoln ave., was named unanimously by the board of health at a meeting Thursday night as city health nurse to succeed Miss Elizabeth Steer.

Miss Steer resigned two weeks ago to take over new duties at the Friends Rescue home at Columbus.

Miss Markovich will assume her position Oct. 1. The appointment was for Miss Steer's unexpired term, ending Dec. 31. The appointment will likely be renewed January.

The new health nurse, who also will serve as public school nurse, is a graduate of the nurses' training school at Charity hospital, Cleveland. She spent six months at that hospital following her graduation in 1935 and then returned to Salem.

Since that time she has been associated with both Salem City hospital and the Central Clinic.

Serving as assistant to Miss Steer during the last year, in the capacity of a WPA nurse, Miss Markovich has been well grounded in the nurse's duties.

Salem Attorney Chairman of Bar Association Committee on Modernization of Rules

Attorney L. P. Metzger of Salem has been named chairman of a committee, appointed by L. M. Kyes of East Palestine, president of the Columbiana County Bar association, to make recommendations for modernization of rules of practice in common pleas and probate courts of this county.

Other members of this committee are W. H. Vordrey, Sr. and Walter E. Hill of East Liverpool, and W. B. Moore and C. C. Connell of Lisbon.

At its recent meeting the county bar association heard reports of Judge W. F. Lones of common pleas court and Judge H. W. Hammond of probate and juvenile courts revealing the large increase in volume of business in both courts, revealing the large increase in volume of business in both courts. As a result the association directed President Kyes to appoint a committee to make a careful study of the rules in order that the transaction of business in both courts may be expedited.

Such of the recommendations of the committee as may be approved by the association will be submitted to the respective courts for their consideration.

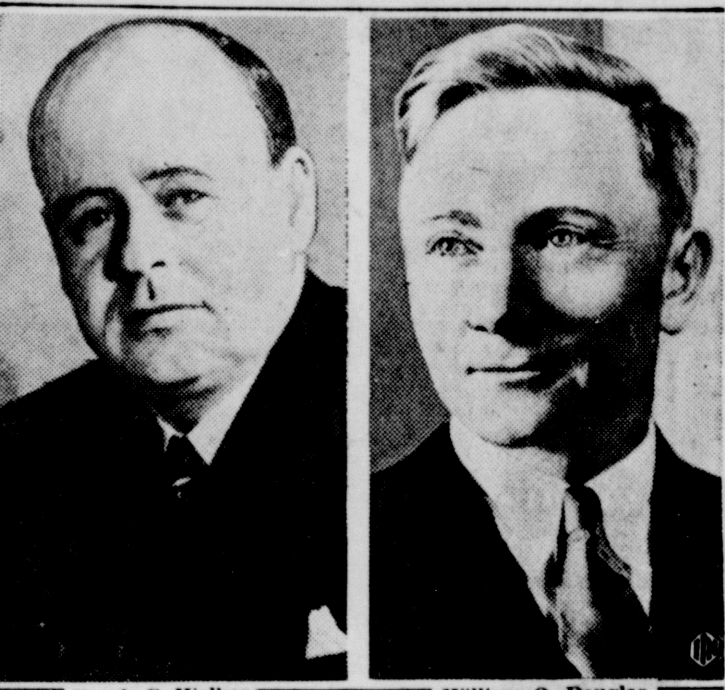

Oppose Gambling

STUEBENVILLE, Sept. 24.—Persons opposing gambling and organized by 839 church members convened Mayor Earl D. Applegate today after a ministerial association committee visited him. Rev. James K. Leitch, committee chairman, said the papers were circulated in churches for signature last Sunday.

Frank C. Walker William O. Douglas

Frequent turnover in the personnel of the New Deal recently involves the names of two other well-knowns. William O. Douglas, 38-year-old former Yale law professor, becomes new chairman of the securities and exchange commission of which he has been a member since January, 1936. Frank C. Walker, wealthy New Yorker and first director of the now defunct national emergency council, is expected to take the vacant post of budget director, an office which will have considerably extended power if plans of the president go through.

DR. K. I. BROWN CLASS SPEAKER

Hiram College President To Address Nurses Next Wednesday

Dr. Kenneth I. Brown, president of Hiram college, will deliver the principal address at graduation exercises for eight nurses of the Salem City hospital training school at 8:15 p. m. next Wednesday in the Elks home, East State st.

Program Completed

Atty L. P. Metzger will preside at the graduation ceremonies. The following program has been completed: Processional, J. L. Hundertmark and Mrs. Ruth Berry; invocation, Rev. R. D. Walter, pastor of the Presbyterian church; musical selection, vocal, "Morning," Miss Martha Bailey.

Address by Dr. Brown; reading, "Recompense," Miss Mary Louise Tracy, instructor of nurses; presentation of diplomas, D. B. McCune, president of the hospital board of trustees.

Presentation of pins, Miss Esther Wilson, superintendent of Salem City hospital; Florence Nightingale pledge, Dr. P. C. Hartford and members of the graduating class.

Invocation, Rev. Fr. M. J. Casey, pastor of St. Paul's Catholic church; recessional, Mr. Hundertmark and Mrs. Berry.

A reception and dance will be given following the commencement program by the Salem City Hospital auxiliary in the Elks home.

Social Activities Arranged

A series of social activities preceded the graduation Wednesday night. The Salem City Hospital Alumnae association will entertain at a dinner for the graduates Monday evening at Hotel Warren, Warren. The Junior-Senior nurses dinner-dance will be given Tuesday evening at the Hannah E. Mullins Nurses home, East State st.

Hospital faculty members will entertain graduates and their mothers at a luncheon at 1 p. m. Wednesday at the hospital.

Graduates are Miss Catherine Blythe, Miss Jane Connors, Miss Leila Faloon, Miss Catherine Flick, Miss Frances Kuniewicz, Miss Thelma McKenzie, Miss Lela Vincent and Miss Ellen Andre.

The public is invited to attend the graduation exercises.

Woman Is Injured In Fall At "Expo"

Miss Mary Bryan of East Seventh st., is in St. Vincent's Catholic hospital in Cleveland where she was taken following a fall while attending the Cleveland exposition Monday afternoon.

Miss Bryan suffered a fractured left hip when she slipped and fell at the entrance to one of the buildings. She will be in the hospital six weeks before being permitted to return home.

MUSSOLINI OFF AMID FANFARE TO SEE HITLER

Thousands strive for View Of Flashily Uniformed Il Duce

MEETING HAILED AS "IMPORTANT"

Both Nations Agog, But No One Seems to Know Ultimate Results

(By Associated Press) ROME, Sept. 24.—Amid a gigantic military demonstration, Premier Mussolini left today for Germany to visit Europe's other powerful Fascist leader, Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler.

Il Duce drove from Paleazzo Venezia to his special train in a closed car through streets packed by thousands of Romans, held behind tight lines of militiamen.

Duce Flashily At the station, thousands more surged and heaved at the ranks of soldiers drawn from every branch of the army stationed in or near Rome. Every eye strained for a glimpse of Mussolini, flashily dressed in the uniform of commander-in-chief of the Fascist militia.

Italy's premier walked into the station through the royal waiting room, accompanied by his closest advisers. Among them were Count Galeazzo Ciano, his son-in-law and minister of foreign affairs; Dino Alfieri, minister of popular culture; and Achille Starace, Fascist secretary. They and others are accompanying him to Germany.

Il Duce quickly reviewed the detail of troops forming an honor guard before his coach and then boarded his train, which departed at 6:20 a. m. EST.

Italian newspapers made much of the impending meeting between Mussolini and Hitler, emphasizing its importance in international affairs.

Germany a1 Agog In Germany, meanwhile, the strongest superlatives of the German language were used to describe the importance of the impending meetings between Mussolini and Hitler.

Il Duce's visit to Germany's Fuehrer was described lavishly in the press as "history's most important meeting of heads of state" and interpreted as opening a "new era in European politics" but nobody seemed to know just what its concrete results would be.

EIGHT RECEIVE RABIES SERUM

Quarantine Effective In Salem; East Palestine Woman Dies

A dog quarantine was established today in the neighborhood of W. Pershing st., west of Howard ave., after a dog was found to have "dumb" rabies.

Leonard Perkins of 320 W. Pershing st., owner of the animal, and seven other neighbors who had petted the dog recently, were given anti-rabies treatment immediately. The "contacts" will be given 14 serum injections—one each day. Health Commissioner R. T. Holzbach said.

Report On Missing Yacht Proves False

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The missing yachts Endeavour I, allied for a few hours, were alive again today after a message from the captain of the British tanker Anastro denied he had sighted the missing yachts off the Azores.

The terse denial of previous reports that the yacht had been sighted etched a tragic aftermath to the celebration at the little fishing village of Talsbury, where over half the members of the Endeavour crew live.

Unreliable Lloyds in London had also received the news joyfully.

Then to joyful England came the radio from the Anastro master: "Heard it from London that the Anastro had sighted the yachts Endeavour I and II. I feel deeply concerned as I have not seen or heard anything about them for about a month."

An official Lloyds source, however, said he had no reason to doubt the original message from the Anastro, although there had been no confirmation from any other source.

LEETONIA MAN KILLED IN FALL

Emil Holz, 41, Is Fatally Hurt At Plant Near Pittsburgh

LEETONIA, Sept. 24.—Emil Holz, 41, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Holz of this village, was killed at the plant where he was working at Neville Island, Pittsburgh, Pa., Thursday when he was overcome by gas while repairing a furnace.

Overcome, he fell to his death, receiving a fractured skull. His body was brought to Leetonia today. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Besides his parents and his wife, Margaret, he is survived by two sons, Bud and Jerry, and a daughter, Margaret Anna. Miss Marian Burke of State st., Salem, is a cousin.

Paris Plagued By Case of Missing Russian Generals

(By Associated Press) PARIS, Sept. 24.—Agents of the Surete Nationale, hunting clues to the whereabouts of two vanished generals of the dead Czar Nicholas' scattered army, took the wife of one of them to headquarters for questioning today.

The authorities had been unable to find the woman, Mme. Plevitkaia Skobline, since before noon yesterday when she had reported her husband, Gen. Nicholas Skobline, mysteriously missing.

Skobline was an aide of the aged Gen. Eugene De Miller, leader of the thousands of emigres who once were part of Russia's imperial "white" army. De Miller vanished on Wednesday.

The two generals dropped out of sight in a case tinged with the possibility of an international abduction plot and many of the elements of a fictional thriller.

The case of the vanishing Russian generals was the latest of a series of international complications that have plagued French authorities since Jean De Koven, a Brooklyn dancer visiting Paris, disappeared July 23. Her case is still unsolved but under inquiry.

Wounds Are Fatal To Folsom Warden

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 24.—Warden C. A. Larkin, 46, of Folsom prison, died early today at Sutter hospital of infection from stab wounds he received in last Sunday's riot at the penitentiary.

He was the fourth victim of the riot, for which five surviving convicts are under indictment for murder. Two convicts and a guard were killed in the futile escape attempt.

Captain of the Guard W. J. Ryan, also stabbed by convict knives, was reported to have recovered sufficiently to be removed from an oxygen tent.

Three convicts are still in the prison hospital, two of them in serious condition.

SEATTLE MAN IS CRITICAL AFTER CRASH

Samuel Henderson, Vice President of Seattle Iron and Metal Products Co., Taken To City Hospital Here

COMPANIONS BRUISED AND CUT

Child Struck By Car On W. Pershing St.; Mother, Rushing Tot to Hospital, Drives Machine Into Henderson's Auto

A series of traffic accidents in the city Thursday evening sent four persons, including a girl, 2½ years old, to hospitals. A Seattle, Wash., man is critically injured.

The victims include: Shirley Jane Mihalko, 2½, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mihalko, 508 W. Pershing st., in Central Clinic.

Sam Henderson, 63, Seattle, Wash., vice president of Seattle Iron and Metal Co.; in Salem City hospital severely injured.

Adolph Aaronson, 50, Patton, Pa., in Salem City hospital.

Isador Aaronson, 22, son, given first aid treatment at City hospital for brush burns under right eye.

The accidents in which the four persons were hurt were oddly connected when Mrs. Mihalko, rushing her baby, injured in a previous accident, to the hospital, struck the automobile driven by Isador Aaronson at the intersection of S. Lincoln ave. and E. Pershing st., at 5:30 p. m.

Mrs. Mihalko, excited as she sped with her injured child to the hospital, failed to observe the stop sign as she drove east on E. Pershing st., police said. Her machine crashed broadside into Aaronson's auto, enroute north on S. Lincoln.

Mother Not Injured Henderson and the elder Aaronson, riding with Aaronson's son, Isador, were badly hurt, although Mrs. Mihalko was not injured. The three men were enroute to Cleveland at the time.

Henderson's condition at City hospital is described as poor. He is suffering from a concussion of the brain, a possible broken back, lacerations and bruises and possible fractured left thumb.

Adolph Aaronson, whose condition at the hospital is said to be fair, received possible fractured ribs on the left side and lacerations of the scalp.

Patrolmen Norr Gaunt and James Hassey, who investigated the accidents, said the first one occurred when Shirley Jane Mihalko ran into the street on W. Pershing as a car, driven by Evelyn Crawford, 19, of 280 W. Pershing st., approached from the east.

Miss Crawford veered her machine to the right in an attempt to avoid striking the child. Patrolman Hassey reported, but was unsuccessful. Her car then hit a fire plug.

The accident at the corner of E. Pershing st. and S. Lincoln ave., happened a few minutes later after Mrs. Mihalko picked up her daughter, placed her in a car and headed for the hospital.

The girl, although seriously hurt, is expected to recover.

Neither Miss Crawford nor her father, Charles Crawford, riding in the machine, was hurt when the vehicle crashed into the fire plug.

Other Mishaps Reported At 7:10 p. m. an automobile driven by Joseph Sinsley of 512 Rively ave., reported to have been returning from the hospital with relatives of Mrs. Mihalko, figured in a collision with a machine operated by Kenneth McConner, 850 W. State st., on E. State st., near Ohio ave. No one was hurt, however.

Shortly afterwards, police were called to investigate a collision between cars driven by O. A. Hunter of 1076 N. Ellsworth ave. and Carl Scott, of Canton, at the corner of N. Ellsworth ave. and Third st. The occupants of the machines were not hurt.

Only a Bulldog

DALLAS, Texas.—Bama, a Boston bulldog, fell into a manhole, while two patrolmen, summoned by Bama's owner, were trying to retrieve the dog. They dashed to a telephone three blocks away.

"There's a baby down a manhole," headquarters told them. "It's a bulldog," the officers snorted.

They returned to the rescue and found three police squad cars, some fire apparatus and 1,000 spectators. Bama was saved.

CHINESE FLYPAPER

Fighting in China, like almost everything else in that vast country, now covers too much territory to be watched comprehensively.

It is that impression of vast distances, of thousands of troops battling in one section while somewhere else another, perhaps larger, battle is going on, that may be the key to the future of this undeclared war.

Due to the Shanghai outbreak—regardless of who started it and for what reason—Japan is engaged on a vast front. Its generals have made plain their angry intention to teach the Chinese a complete lesson. Though undeclared, the war in which Japan has involved itself so deeply is a major effort.

China, untrained, cannot win immediately and decisively. But, with everything to gain and nothing to lose, it can engage Japan's forces in so many quarters and for so long a time that there will be a tremendous strain on Japanese morale, finances and international relations.

Fighting is not China's forte. It is a land, a people, admirably suited to the art of resistance. Against its endless miles and millions of inhabitants a few hundred thousand Japanese soldiers can wear themselves out for a lifetime. There is, apparently, no limit to what China can stand, but there is certainly a limit to what Japan's empire builders and jingoists can stand.

That limit comes closer with each day's costly operation of the Japanese war machine in the Chinese flypaper, where every move requires double effort.

BEYOND EXPECTATIONS

The theme of the American Legion's 19th convention is that everything's beyond expectations.

The Legion visitors are livelier and more numerous than the metropolis thought they were going to be,
which covers a lot of ground.

The traffic jams, the noise, the deviltry, the playfulness and the triumph of the carnival spirit are all greater than they were expected to be. On the serious side, Legion interest in national affairs shows no signs of letdown, either.

That "average Legionnaire," who now is 44 years old and the father of a couple of kids in high school, is only about half as old as some of the skeptics said he was getting to be. Aside from a few gray hairs and a little bulge above the belt, he still looks like a boy—and he doesn't apologize for his wife, who sets
the pace for him.

This is a remarkable situation. Hundreds of years ago Ponce de Leon poked about in this then unexplored country looking for the Fountain of Perpetual Youth. He didn't find it, but a whole generation of Americans seem to have topped into it after the World War without even looking for it—or maybe they were looking, but didn't mention it.

PARDON THE INTERRUPTION

One of the funnier aspects of the Black case is the predicament of the new justice's journalistic defenders.

These gentlemen have gone the whole way with the New Deal. Its brand of liberalism, they insist, has just one weakness—it isn't quite stout enough
for them.

They are willing to go the limit—so willing that when the Black appointment was announced they cheered themselves hoarse. And now, with Justice Black suspected of having put President Roosevelt into a hole by forgetting to mention his Ku Klux Klan connections, they're trying to cover up by throwing mud at the nasty old Tories who spoiled their fun by finding a skeleton in the closet.

Pardon the interruption, but wouldn't it be closer to the line of honest-to-gosh liberalism to wait for Justice Black to deny that he favors terrorism against Negroes, Jews and Catholics before rushing to his defense? Otherwise, this New Deal liberalism —which includes Jim Farley and Joe Guffey at one end and Tom Corcoran and Ben Cohen at the other —will be more of a puzzle than ever.

What with all the fighting going on already, it's a pity the Civil War between the states has to be fought again. The G. A. R. has voted to join the confederates in a joint reunion, but stipulate that no flag shall be flown but that of the United States.

THE STARS SAY:

For Saturday, September 25.

This may be a troublesome day, with tenacious obstacles to contend with and possibly some private grief or bereavement, according to the dominant lunar and solar aspects. It may require dogged determination to cope with these stubborn conditions of crystallization or frustration, with postponements

and disappointments in their trail. Be particularly cautious with papers and also guard the tongue, lest there be incited false report or slander.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year calling for perseverance, patience and fortitude, as there may be much to overcome. It will be difficult to overcome tenacious obstacles and to be reconciled to delays and disappointments or impediments. Be careful with writings and speech, particularly with young people, who may distort or misconstrue.

A child born on this day, while being of astute and acute mentality, may have many frustrating circumstances to cope with in life. It may require careful training to give it the proper vision and direction in life.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—Thoughts while strolling:
Regal looking lady: Mrs. Oliver Harriman. The lady who is almost constantly up in the air—Julia Chandler, the Empire Tower hostess. Mayor La Guardia whittled down could play Punch in a Punch and Judy show.

Rhyme: Nelson Eddy sings sweetly, veddy. Statuesque Vera Corbett, Jim's widow. Alec Templeton, the blind pianist, chattering and smiling along the avenue. With a moth eaten astrakhan collared coat and frayed spats Harry Hershfield could pass for an old time Shakespearean actor.

Still top in strutting tunes: "Waiting for the Robert E. Lee." Hit-cup name: Bob Hope. Some of the economic royalist hooters must feel pretty little after reading Andrew Mellon's will. Benay Venuto is really the pronunciation of Cellini's first name, for goodness sake!

Not many hat tilts so accomplished as the late Colin Clive. And no one can look so all steamed up as Herbert Bayard Swope. Never met a man named Alonzo who wasn't a circus performer. Or a fellow named Ted who didn't like to go to night clubs.

What's become of Mrs. Harrison Williams? Grand feeling-sorry-for-yourself tune: "Song of India." George Palmer Putnam still looks forlorn and dejected. Walter Chrysler and Major Bowes window shopping and swapping yarns. So was the world—or what is left of it.

No one in radio work has had such an unfortunate professional break as A. L. Alexander, one of the pioneer announcers. His Good Will Court from almost every angle seemed a perfect set-up for a crack entertainment. His sponsors were just as enthusiastic and had the capital to put it through. But the program struck a snag when the legal fraternity objected to what they seemed to think was trespass.
The objection suspended a program that would have,
experts say, netted Alexander a million.

Paul Whiteman seems likely to become a dyed-in-the-wool Long Horn. His stay at the Fort Worth Billy Rose whoop de doo this summer gave him a sharp taste for life on the pampas. He returned there for a second season. In the meantime he has built a home in one of the residential sections and has become a recognized member of the established citizenry. Those who know say that upon retirement he has planned to live on his ranch in Colorado but now
when he puts his baton away he will trek back to Ft.
Worth for his front porch rocking.

Incidentally, Vincent Lopez has gone a long way from the days—or rather nights—when he tickled the ivories at the rather rowdy old Pekin in Times Square.
Lopez was the first along Broadway to glisten his hair with the modern version of "bear grease" and slick it back straight from his forehead. He was a decided lady killer in that era and the Pekin patronage was mostly admiring ladies who brought their boy friends to pay the checks while they listened, watched and dreamed.

How colorful Broadway in those days! I recall one summer noon standing on the Astor steps and watching a cream-colored Rolls zoom southward. In the back seat a fleeting glance of Vernon Castle, bare of head and wearing a lavender shirt with the collar
in deep Byronic roll. A few steps away Joe Weber and Lew Fields were exchanging banter with the wide-collared Louis Mann. Across the way Willie Collier and George M. Cohan were ducking into the Claridge for lunch at the famous Nat Goodwin table.
Marie Cahill was playing at the Criterion. Fred Stone
at the Globe and Al Jolson at the Winter Garden.
One somehow felt that to be a part of a Broadway
scene was to be on top of the world.

I also recall my ambitions encompassed a suite at the Astor and a chance to dine nightly at Rector's, Churchill's or Shanley's. And to have Chet, the head bar-man at the Knickerbocker, inquire: "Your usual champagne cocktail, Mr. McIntyre?" while Kato, the Jap bar boy, struck a match for my imported panatella. That was one thing about a $35-a-week copy reading job—one could always dream.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

Acne is often referred to as the bane of youth. It certainly is an annoying and distressing afflic-tion of the skin, causing great personal embarrassment. Since acne attacks young boys and girls at the period they are most sensitive, it has an unpleasant influence on the future of the young sufferer.

Contrary to common belief, acne
is not an incurable affliction. In fact, early attention means prompt cure. It is only when it is neglected that relief is more difficult.

In acne there is a greasy and unhealthy appearance of the skin. It appears dirty, and, in many instances,
I am sorry to say, it is dirty.

Any portion of the body may be involved but, as a rule, the face, neck and back are the regions covered with unsightly pimples and blackheads.

Don't Neglect It

If the condition is neglected and the skin is not cared for as it should be, small pustules, which are collections of pus, may appear.

If these pustules are scratched or constantly irritated by being picked at, permanent disfiguring scars may result. The disturbance may spread to other portions of the body.

Although the actual cause of acne is not known, undoubtedly it is associated with some glandular change in the body. That change may accompany poor hygienic habits, lack of exercise, lack of body cleanliness, as well as faulty diet and constipation. No one of these factors should be overlooked.

To have a good skin there should be daily evacuation. To this end it is wise to avoid fried and greasy foods, excessive quantities of salt, peppers, spices and pickles. Candy, pastries and rich desserts should not be included in the diet. The sufferer from acne should be encouraged to drink copious amounts of water, at least six to eight glasses of water daily. He should make sure the diet contains adequate amounts of fresh fruits and vegetables.

Sun Is Beneficial

Exposure to the sunlight is beneficial in many forms of acne. The ultra-violet ray has a soothing and beneficial action in removing the tendency to these unsightly pimples. But it is hopeless to depend on sunlight or lamp treatments without first correcting the underlying causes I have outlined. Cleanliness of the skin, actually scrubbing it with soap and water, will do wonders.

As I have said, the condition may be associated with some glandular disturbance so likely to be present

GRANGE HOLDS ITS INSPECTION

Mahoning Deputy F. C. Heintzleman at Garfield Meeting

DAMASCUS, Sept. 24. — Inspection was held at Garfield grange Wednesday evening by County Deputy F. C. Heintzleman of Boardman. The meeting was held in the grange hall. The inspection score was 93 1/2 per cent for the year.

Mr. and Mrs. William Welch and daughter, Marie, were obligated in the first degree and were initiated in full form in the second degree. The Garfield first and second degree team exemplified the work.

A paper was read on the Japan, China war. Garfield grange will open at 8 p. m. during the winter months beginning in October.

Pomona grange will be held at Garfield Saturday, Sept. 25. Dinner will be served at noon with Mrs. Charles Pyle, Mrs. H. H. Beat and Mrs. Albert Stanley in charge. Mrs. J. B. Amstutz will be charge of the dining room.

Booster night will be observed Sept. 30 at Garfield. This will be an open meeting.

Remarks were made by F. C. Heintzleman, Edward Stratton and Mrs. H. E. Oesch. There were 77 present.

The program was: Song, grange; current events and jokes, Mrs. Charles Pyle; piano solo, Ellen June McDonald; skit, Charles Pyle and Olin Shoor; vocal solo, Miss Mary French; agricultural number, "Alfalfa Overcoat," Mrs. W. K. Talbott; violin solo, Miss Marguerite Mellett accompanied at the piano by Mrs. W. Mellett; educational number, Mrs. J. B. Amstutz.

Mrs. Frank Mather, juvenile manager, presented the subordinate grange a set of spoons from the juvenile grange.

Given High Score

Garfield Juvenile grange scored 97 per cent at inspection Wednesday evening. Mrs. F. C. Heintzleman, Mahoning county deputy manager, held the inspection. Three new members were initiated in full form by the degree team. The sum of $25 was received from the Mahoning county fair board for exhibiting at the fair at Canton.

A blue ribbon was received earlier for winning first prize. Mrs. Heintzleman presented the juvenile a box of candy, a gift from Vernon Delzell for receiving first prize at the fair.

Plans were made for Pomona to be held at Garfield Saturday. There were 28 members present.

The new members received are William, Ruth and Frances Welsh.

The program was: Song, "Swanee River," recitation, Ruth Ellen Snar; piano solo, Ellen June McDonald; recitation, Charlene Moran. Remarks, Mrs. Heintzleman. Mrs. Mather told about the juvenile exhibits at the Stark county fair at Canton.

Farwell Party

A farwell party was given Rev. and Mrs. Harry Randall Wednesday evening by members of Garfield chapel. The event was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoffman with approximately 35 present. A handkerchief shower was presented both Rev. and Mrs. Randall. A social time was enjoyed and lunch served.

Rev. and Mrs. Randall are leaving for Glidden, Iowa, where Rev. Randall will be pastor of the Friends church there. He was formerly pastor of Garfield chapel.

Sunday Services

Rev. A. N. Henry announces his subjects for the Sunday services at the Friends church. The subject at 10:30 a. m. will be "The Master's Plan for the present," and the subject Sunday evening will be "Imitating Christ."

The Christian Endeavor meeting will be led by Wendell Santee.

The evangelistic and pastoral board of Ohio Yearly meeting has announced an annual week of prayer to be held from Sept. 26 to Oct. 3, inclusive.

Damascus Friends church plans to co-operate in this very important function in the following ways: By personal, family and group prayer in agreement with the outline suggested; by a prayer meeting for the Christian Endeavor society Tuesday evening at the parsonage; by special emphasis in the mid-week services Thursday morning and evening; by a public prayer service at the church Friday evening to remember in particular the church's missionary needs; by tolling the church bell each morning at 9 o'clock, calling the people to prayer as they personally find opportunity.

Mrs. Pettit Honored

Mrs. Annie Pettit was honored at a party Wednesday evening, in observance of her 76th birthday. The event was a surprise at her home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shreve of Alliance, Mr. and Mrs. William Swartz, Miss Laura Pettit and Miss Ada Marletta. A social time was enjoyed and lunch served.

Miss Betty Hobson entertained associate office girls of the Steward Bros. Paint Co., Alliance, Tuesday evening. Miss Wilma Carlisle of Alliance was also a guest. A wiener roast was held and the evening was spent with music and a social time.

The boys Mission band met with one of the leaders, Mrs. Lawrence Linton, Monday evening. Mrs. Alfred Crawford has been appointed to assist Mrs. Linton, succeeding Miss Evelyn Cosand who is attending Marion college at Marion, Ind. Mrs. Crawford read missionary stories and refreshments were served.

The Magazine club will meet with Mrs. Leonard Pearce at 2 p. m. Wednesday, Sept. 29.

W. C. T. U. To Meet

The Mahoning County W. C. T. U. will meet at the Presbyterian church in North Benton Thursday, Sept. 29. There will be three sessions, morning, afternoon and evening.

Allen West and Donald Moncrief have entered Mt. Union college.

Word has been received that Harry Chrisler died at the Soldiers' home in Sandusky. Mr. Chrisler, who had been living with Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Delzell here, entered the Soldiers' home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Engle and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Engle of Colorado Springs were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Linton overnight Monday. They were returning from a trip through the east.

Mrs. Chester Saywell of Detroit, and Mrs. Clay Rockhill of Alliance called on Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Atkinson, recently.

Undergoes Operation

Mrs. L. W. Simpson of Detroit who injured her knee at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. G. Long, underwent an operation on her knee Thursday morning at the City hospital, Salem.

Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Koch of Pittsburgh were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Steer, Thursday and Friday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Peoples of Waynesburg visited their daughter Mrs. Fred Chambers and family this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Talbott attended a birthday party for Mrs. Talbott's father Frank Young of Berlin Center, Thursday evening. They were accompanied by Miss Dorothy Young of Sebring.

OUR READERS

WAR ON GAMBLING

In the past few months I have received numerous complaints regarding the operation of slot machines, marble boards, pool room gambling, betting on horse racing by means of a mechanical device, and other types of gambling in Salem.

These complaints include stories that a woman's husband spent his whole pay by such gambling—another woman's husband spent half of his pay in a slot machine resulting in his inability to pay his rent, and consequently his eviction from that house—another that her 15-year-old boy spent $130 in a slot machine.

Still more serious was a complaint from a mother who says her 16-year-old boy stole 75 cents from a neighbor's table and dropped it in a slot machine.

I have had numerous complaints similar to those. I certainly desire to do something about this situation, and have advised these complainants that the only way this court can apprehend the operators of these illegal devices is by the complainants filing affidavits for the arrest of the operators. This, of course, they hesitate to do. Local officers have refused even neglected to file charges even though they know the vice exists.

Wherefore, I feel it my duty as a justice of the peace, and as a citizen of Salem, to put a stop to this gambling, which in itself is a crime, and which generally results in still more serious crime.

Unless all slot machines, illegal marble boards, and all other games of chance of any description are disposed of at once, I personally will devise method whereby the operators of such devices will be arrested and punished.

I feel it my duty to start such a campaign, and believe the News will be good enough to aid me by publishing the meaning and intentions of this writer as set down in this letter.

Respectfully,
WM. G. RICH, JR.

Miss Collins Is Bride Of D. J. Hanna

Miss Mary N. Collins, niece of Miss Frances Collins of New Matamoras and Dallas J. Hanna, son of Mrs. Louisa Hanna of Cleveland st., were united in marriage at noon Wednesday in the M. E. parsonage in New Matamoras by the pastor, Rev. A. C. Gilbert.

There were no attendants. Miss Collins wore a green ensemble with brown accessories. Following the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's aunt, Miss Collins, with whom she resided.

Refreshments were served at a table attractive with fall flowers. Tailsman roses and a large wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom.

After a wedding trip through the south, the couple will be at home to friends after Oct. 1 in New Matamoras.

Mrs. Hanna was dietitian at the Salem City hospital for several years. She resigned last July. She is a graduate of the New Matamoras High School, Battle Creek college, Battle Creek, Mich., and Mount Union college. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority.

Mr. Hanna, who graduated from the Salem High school in 1922, is associated with the Truck Engineering Co., Cleveland.

Six guests were present at the ceremony. They were: Miss Frances Collins, aunt of the bride and her cousin, Miss Florence West, of New Matamoras; Mrs. Hanna, mother of the groom, his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Mariou Hanna, and Miss Martha Baker of Salem.

Program Presented At Benefit Tea

A delightful program was presented at the benefit tea given by the Women's Bible class of the Presbyterian church at the home of Mrs. James Craig, Franklin st., yesterday afternoon.

More than 50 members and guests enjoyed a program which included piano selections by Mrs. Harold Babb and Mrs. John Hundertmark; reading by Mrs. Ross Clay and a vocal solo by Miss Barbara Morey.

Associate hostesses were Mrs. A. L. Wood, Mrs. Beith Olt, Mrs. H. W. Reynolds, Mrs. William Umstead and Mrs. P. B. Parks. Mrs. Emily Arbaugh and Mrs. Hannah Maule presided at the tables.

The next tea will be given Oct. 6 at the home of Mrs. A. C. Long, Lisbon rd.

Nurses Are Honored At Corn Roast

A corn roast was given Thursday evening at the home of Miss Mary Ann Sox, Ellsworth rd., honoring six students of the Salem City City Hospital Nurses Training school who will leave Oct. 1 for Cleveland.

The following girls will begin a nine-month affiliation at Cleveland City hospital at that time: Misses Velma Briggs, Caroline Cameron, Charlotte King, Concerina Petrocco, Ida Wagenhouser and Ioda Filler.

Gifts were presented by student nurses to the group going to Cleveland. About 35 were present.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson and Dr. and Mrs. L. W. King have returned from a week's trip through New York state, the Pocono mountains and to New York City where they witnessed the American Legion convention parade on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gory K. Jones of Buckeye ave., have returned from a trip to Washington, D. C., and New York City where they attended the American Legion convention parade Tuesday.

Attend Conference Of Federation

Mrs. L. D. Cessna, Mrs. E. E. Dyball and Mrs. John Burns attended the annual fall conference of the middle-east district, Ohio division of the National Federation of Music Clubs, Wednesday in Carrollton.

Mrs. Burns was appointed vice president of the senior division of the federation. Mrs. Cessna is president and counselor of Junior Music clubs of the middle-east district.

On Thursday, Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Dyball, Mrs. Cessna and the latter's houseguest, Mrs. L. D. Cornish of Chicago, attended the conference of the northeast district of the music club federation at the Welshfield Inn, near Cleveland.

Mrs. A. B. Herbruck, of Dayton, state president, of Dayton, and Mrs. Margaret Lockwood of Hamilton, state treasurer, were present. The program was presented by students, teachers and artists from Mount Union and Baldwin-Wallace colleges.

The middle-east and northeast districts of the Junior Music clubs will hold a joint conference in Salem Oct. 23. Arrangements for the event are under the supervision of the district president and counselor, Mrs. Cessna and Mrs. Dyball, local chairman.

Mrs. Charles Wilhelm Is Complimented

Mrs. Charles Wilhelm of Pasadena, Calif., was complimented when a group of friends gave an informal dinner last evening at the home of Mrs. Fred Hall, East Fourth st.

Following the dinner the evening was spent socially. Mrs. Wilhelm showed pictures of people and places of interest in California.

Marriage Licenses

A marriage license has been granted at Lisbon to Charles Geiss of Youngstown and Thelma Forney of 818 South Lundy ave., Salem.

Social Events In Lisbon

Mrs. George E. Sharp, Steubenville will address a combined meeting of Lisbon's literary clubs Monday evening at the American Legion home. Mrs. Sharp, who has traveled extensively, will speak on "South Africa," a district with which she is familiar. The Monday club, Sorosis and Coterie will hear the talk.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Edward Vulcan of Lisbon and Miss Florence Brockman, East Palestine. The ceremony was performed Tuesday evening in East Palestine by Rev. D. Porter Williams, pastor of the Presbyterian church there. The couple will make their home in Lisbon where the bridegroom is employed.

Mrs. J. M. Cameron entertained members of the United Presbyterian church's Women's Missionary society at her home this afternoon.

Twenty-four friends of Jack Stockman were present at a birthday surprise party given for him at his home Tuesday evening. Guests included members of the honoree's Boy Scout troop.

Like Apples? Try These Recipes

Apple Jam
Pare, core and chop 1 lb. of apples. Add 1 lb. of sugar, 1 cup chopped raisins, chopped rind and juice of an orange and lemon. Cook until the apples are clear and the mixture thickens like jam when cold.

Apple John
A. 1 1/2 cups white flour and 1/2 cup graham flour, 1 tsp. salt, 2 tps. baking powder.
B. 1 egg—not beaten, 2 tablespoons sugar.
C. 1 tablespoon shortening, 1 tablespoon butter.
D. 1 cup milk.

Sift (A) and add it to (C) and work it like biscuit dough. Combine (B) and (D) and add to flour. Grease a pie tin and fill with sliced apples. Add to these sliced apples 1 cup sugar—pinch salt, and sprinkle generously with cinnamon. Pour the batter over this—and bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven, or about 40 degrees.

This may be served with whipped cream or milk or cream and sugar.

Baked Apples
Standard
Wipe and core tart apples. Place in a baking dish and fill centers with sugar and cinnamon, allowing one-half cup of sugar and one-fourth tsp. of cinnamon to 8 apples. (A variation of this recipe includes raisins in the filling.)

Covert the bottom of the dish with boiling water and bake in a hot oven until soft, basting often with syrup in the dish. Serve hot or cold with cream.

Apple Delight
Pare and core sound tart apples. Make a syrup of two cups of sugar and one of water. Let boil five minutes. Put apples in and turn them often so that they will keep their shape. When soft, lift out and drain. Sprinkle with sugar and glaze in oven. Fill centers with red jelly and serve with whipped cream, placed around the apples.

Wins Commission
OBERLIN, Sept. 24—A commission for life service for foreign missions will be conferred on Miss Miriam Emma Rogers of Cleveland at Sunday services in the First Congregational church here. She will teach in a kindergarten training school in Sholapur, India.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—More than 5 cents a bushel tumble of September corn prices took place early today, with quick rallies of about 3 cents following. The fall was attributed largely to heavy sales of corn for shipment to Chicago from industries elsewhere.

 up, September 1.12½-14, December 65½-66, corn futures soon receded all around. Wheat started unchanged to ½ higher, December 1.07½-1.08, May 1.08½-09, and for the time being held near these limits.

How Old Is Frank?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — The Leap-year birthday question gave Louisville's social security office a puz-zler.
 The subject was Frank C. Bray, born Feb. 29, 1872; age 16 if you count birthdays; 65 if you count
 just years.
 The office decided if by entering Bray's birth date as Feb. 28 and granting him the lump old-age benefit payment he asked.

DEFER DECISION ON CONVENTION

Opposition Forces Halt On G. O. P. Mid-Term Rally Plans

(By Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Strong opposition within the Republican national committee has forced postponement until November of a showdown on the proposal by former President Hoover and others for an unofficial national convention next year.
 Despite evidence of majority sentiment for the plan, the party's executive committee voted unanimously yesterday to refer the suggestion to the entire national committee.
 Chairman John Hamilton, already working at full speed to prepare for next year's congressional campaign, said he would call the group together at the earliest possible moment, probably in Chicago.
 He indicated the meeting would be between Nov. 2 and 15.
 While Hamilton did not disclose
 the nature of the opposition, leading Republicans in congress have given the Hoover proposal a cool reception. They have expressed concern lest an unofficial convention be used as a vehicle for building up sentiment for the nomination of some individual in 1940
 rather than for shaping party
 principles.
 Leading the opposition at yesterday's executive committee meeting was Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, floor leader for Governor Landon in the 1936 convention. Chief support for the proposal came from Harrison E. Spangler, Iowa national committeeman.
 Spangler suggested that in preparation for the national conference, a planning committee made up of such leaders as Hoover,
 Landon, Senator Borah, Senator
 Vandenberg, Col. Frank Knox and Frank O. Lowden should draw up a declaration of "fundamental principles."

CLEVELAND—John Glatch, one of the few blacksmiths left in the

Cites U. S. Obligation

NANKING, Sept. 24.—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, premier of China and commander in chief of the army, declared today the United States was obliged by her treaties
 "to support China's struggle against Japanese aggression."
 The generalissimo was visibly moved as he talked to American correspondents in the Chinese capital. His remarks were translated by Madame Chiang, his American-educated wife.

Shortly before, the official Chinese Central News agency had expressed on behalf of the government appreciation for the American protests against Japanese bombardments of Nanking, adding "but we hope more positive measures will be adopted against the slaughter of innocent non-combatants."
 The premier declared "America's responsibility in the present Sino-Japanese war is greater than ever before because she convened the Washington disarmament conference and was mainly instrumental in concluding the nine-power pact
 and the League of Nations covenant.

U. S. Fleet To Stay

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. — The United States navy served formal notice today that its Asiatic fleet will remain in Chinese waters "as long as the present controversy between China and Japan exists."

This statement was issued by the navy department as a formal announcement of Admiral Harry E.
 Yarnell, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic squadrons.
 It was made public after a meeting of the navy general board, the highest policy making body of the navy department.

The admiral's announcement said that the navy's policy of maintaining warships at ports, where needed for the protection of American nationals, "will continue in full force even after our nationals have been warned to leave China and after an opportunity to leave has been given."

J. W. CASHDOLLAR

LISBON, Sept. 24.—Friends here were advised today of the death in Bellevue, Pa., of J. W. Cashdollar, 60, former well driller and operator
 in Columbiana county.

Mr. Cashdollar moved from Lisbon to Bellevue six years ago. He died Thursday night.
 Besides his wife, he leaves two sons, Howard and Bernard, all of Bellevue.

The funeral service will be held at 9 p. m. Sunday while Monday morning the body will be taken to Mars, Pa. for final rites, with interment there at 2 p. m.

BONNIE LEE BRADLEY

Bonnie Lee, the infant daughter born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bradley at Akron City hospital, died shortly after birth. Interment was in Ellet cemetery, Akron.
 Mrs. Bradley (formerly Thelma McElowney) is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Shaffer of Jennings ave. Her condition is much improved.

Denies Charges

XENIA, Sept. 24.—A denial by A.
 E. Kildow, ousted former head of the Greene county infirmary, of charges of dishonesty, inefficiency and immoral conduct preceded yesterday dismissal of an immorality charge by State Civil Service Commissioner Ralph W. Emmons.
 The accusations were made by county commissioners. Emmons promised a decision on Kildow's reinstatement within 10 days.

WANTED TO ACT GANGSTER ROLE

Think Lad who Shot Prin- cipal Was Tempor- arily Deranged

(By Associated Press)

TOLEDO, Sept. 24.—Police saw today in the shooting of Miss June Maples, 59, Arlington school principal, by Robert Snyder, 12-year old pupil, the picture of a boy temporarily deranged by hallucinations of "toughness as a gangster."

"I feel sorry for the boy and his parents," the principal, lying in Toledo hospital with a bullet wound through her groin, told Police Sergeant A. W. Bernhagen. "I would rather that nothing more were said about it." Her condition was reported as favorable.

Boy's Condition Serious

The boy was in a serious condition in Mercy hospital with a bullet wound through his head which Bernhagen said was self-inflicted.

Detective Lieut. Ralph Murphy, head of the homicide squad, said
 he was told by James Foltz, 12, close friend of the Snyder boy, that Robert recently had been listening to radio programs based on crime,
 and reading bandit stories.

Murphy said his investigation led him to believe the boy, armed with his father's automatic pistol, wanted to demonstrate his "toughness," in the face of authority, to his pretty little classmate, Gloria Moore, 12.

There was no available information, Murphy said, to indicate any other motive for the shooting which occurred at 2 p. m. yesterday in the principal's office.

Sergeant Bernhagen said Miss Maples told him the following story:

"I was about to leave my office when I saw Robert at the door. He told me he wanted to see me and we went back into the office. I was standing by my desk and he was near the door. I want to see

Gloria Moore," the boy said.

Points Pistol

"I can't call her from class now,
 I told him. He pointed the pistol and said, you can step over to that buzzer and call her." I thought the gun was a toy and started to walk past him when he fired, the first shot striking me. Robert turned and ran toward the door, falling to one knee, and fired four more times, but missed. He then ran from the building.
 "I have no idea why he did it,
 or why he wanted to see the Moore girl."

Lieut. Murphy said Robert's
 father, George Snyder, New York Central railroad fireman, told him
 Robert had never taken the gun
 before to his knowledge.

Murphy said Robert apparently walked half a mile to his home
 through a ravine approximately 100 feet deep, with steps on each side,
 after shooting himself.

Gloria Moore, described by police
 as a decidedly beautiful and usually bright little girl, told Police Captain Charles Hennessy she was acquainted with the boy only through seeing him in the classroom and that they were not unusually friendly.

ELYRIA — Ernest Goodside, a steel worker, refused to postpone his wedding just because injuries he had suffered at the mill were serious enough to keep him in a hospital. The wedding ceremony was read at his bedside.

Seeking Parole

Barney Guy, of East Palestine, sentenced to the Mansfield reformatory after he was convicted of attempting to convey articles into the Columbiana county jail at Lisbon to aid a prisoner escape, has been recommended by the state parole board for a release.
 His parole will become effective
 Dec. 20. His release was approved today along with those of 31 other Mansfield inmates.

Theater Attractions

Barbara Stanwyck has the title role in "Stella Dallas," which shows at the State theater tonight and Saturday. In supporting roles are John Boles, Anne Shirley, Alan Hale and Barbara O'Neill.

"Stella Dallas" is the poignant story of a tawdry, vulgar woman who rises to magnificent heights through her sublime love for her daughter.

Miss Stanwyck Stars
Barbara Stanwyck in the title role gives a performance that will undoubtedly be hailed as one of the finest of the year and should rocket her to new heights of film fame just as the characterization of "Stella Dallas" in the silent version produced by Samuel Goldwyn 12 years ago catapulted Belle Bennett into sensational box-office prominence.

"Stella Dallas" carries a terrific appeal to the emotions in its simple and powerful story. It depicts the life of Stella, a beautiful and pleasure-starved mill girl, who after a brief romance marries Stephen Dallas, outside her social sphere.

They soon discover that they are definitely mismatched. Their baby is born, and Stella's only redeeming quality seems to be her understanding heart expressed in her love for her little daughter Laurel. Her coarse manner of living becomes more pronounced and her flirtation and friendship with Ed Munn, race track tout, and his loud companions further alienates her husband.

Reaches Decision
Finally a conversation overheard by Stella one day brings the realization that she is standing in the way of her daughter's happiness. She decides to permit Stephen to divorce her, marry Mrs. Morrison, his old sweetheart, so that Laurel can live with them and have the advantages of a refined home.

Laurel's loyalty to her mother makes her refuse to leave Stella until the mother puts on a scene to make Laurel believe she isn't wanted there.

At the Grand tonight and Saturday is "Western Gold" from a Peter B. Kyne's story, starring Smith Ballew, singer, and Heather Angel.

The first chapter of a new serial, "Jungle Jim," featuring Grant Withers as the famous newspaper cartoon character, will be seen Friday and Saturday.

Studebaker Forces Meet In South Bend

Thomas Yuhaniak, local Studebaker dealer, J. C. Harshman and L. P. Peezel, salesmen attended a three-day meeting of Studebaker dealers and salesmen at South Bend, Ind.

During the three-day period the visitors were shown the new 1938 Studebaker automobiles at the Studebaker corporation's proving ground. They were also taken for a trip through the factory.

A banquet and entertainment was given the visiting dealers and salesmen at St. Joseph, Mich.

At the conclusion of the meeting the local Studebaker representative drove three new 1938 Studebakers through to Salem. The cars are now on display at Tom's Service Station, N. Lincoln ave.

ASHTABULA — Transients once welcome at the city jail for overnight stops, no longer find hospitality. By order of the City manager, only old persons and cripples can bunk there now.

Here and There About Town

Smith Kiwanis Speaker
An interesting description of the work of an internal revenue officer was given to Kiwanis club members at their noon luncheon yesterday in the Memorial building by Lewis P. Smith, High school teacher formerly with the alcohol tax division.

Smith explained the government's tax collection machinery and reviewed many of the experiences he encountered during his activities.

Byron Maxson was chairman.

Faces Mayor Today

Floyd E. Ruggly, 21, of 196 W. Eighth st., awaited arraignment before Mayor George Harhoff today on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Ruggly was arrested by Patrolmen Clifford Todd and Paul Ormsby at 2:20 a. m. today after he is alleged by the officers to have narrowly missed hitting a parked car at the corner of S. Ellsworth ave. and Pershing st.

Recent Births

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stratton of 1183 North Ellsworth ave., are the parents of a daughter born this morning in Salem City hospital.

Word has been received here of the birth of a daughter Thursday to Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Van Epps of New Philadelphia at Fairview Park hospital, Cleveland. Mrs. Van Epps, before her marriage, was Miss Mary Louise Astry. She is a daughter of C. W. Astry of East Fourth st.

Tabernacle Light

Considerable interest is being shown over the new electric light placed atop the main sign at the Lighthouse Tabernacle on W. State st.

The light is in the form of a miniature lighthouse, three and one-half feet high, having red and green lights on top and white within. The lights flash on and off at night.

With the Patients

Mrs. C. E. Greenamyer, injured in a traffic accident on the Damascus road Wednesday night, was removed from the Central Clinic late yesterday to her home on Aetna st.

John Mussey, of Racine, Pa., injured in a Route 14 accident last Sunday, was reported critical at Salem City hospital this afternoon.

Back From Convention

State Patrolman R. I. Governor returned last night from the national American Legion convention in New York City. He was one of the 20 state highway patrolmen who accompanied Gov. Martin L. Davey to the confab.

Hospital Notes

John Lees of Leetonia has entered Salem City hospital for surgical treatment.

Ralph Firestone of 1037 North Ellsworth ave., had his tonsils removed today at Salem City hospital.

At Grand Jury Hearing

Safety Director C. E. Donahay, Chief of Police Ralph Stoffer and Patrolmen George Reash, James Hassey and Clifford Todd went to Lisbon today to testify before the grand jury.

Install Leetonia Pastor

Rev. Robert J. Topping will be installed as pastor at the Leetonia Presbyterian church at 8 tonight. Rev. R. D. Walter of Salem, will preside. Rev. J. Morgan Cox of Lisbon will deliver the sermon.

Postpone Meeting

The meeting of the Junior Mission Band of the First Friends church originally scheduled for tomorrow afternoon, has been postponed one week.

Woman Is Killed

GREENVILLE, Sept. 24. — Mrs. Minnie Brown, 32, was killed last night when struck by an automobile as she crossed the road to a home where she was employed. Her son, 7, walking with her, was hurt critically.

Attend Oldsmobile Sales Convention

Returning today from Lansing, Mich., where he attended the national Oldsmobile sales convention, C. L. Zimmerman, of the Zimmerman Auto Sales, predicted a record breaking sales year in Salem for the new 1938 Oldsmobile Sixes and Eights which he saw on display for the first time at the Oldsmobile factory.

Attending the Oldsmobile convention with Zimmerman were Mr. Her, salesman; Mr. Sunderman, mechanic; Mr. Doyle, mechanic; and Mr. Watkins, parts manager.

The local contingent was among representatives of Oldsmobile's zones in Cleveland and Indianapolis, zones who were in Lansing at the same time. Altogether, more than 8,500 Oldsmobile dealers, sales managers and salesmen traveled from all parts of the country to take part in the series of meetings which extend over a period of two weeks.

Special trains carried the delegates from their own cities direct to the Oldsmobile factory at Lansing. There the sleeping cars were switched on sidings, so that delegates could attend meetings in Oldsmobile's huge plant auditorium.

In addition to viewing the new 1938 model Oldsmobiles, those attending heard discussions of Oldsmobile's sales plans for the coming year as presented by D. E. Ralston, Oldsmobile general sales manager. They also were addressed by C. L. McCuen, Oldsmobile general manager, G. R. Browder, assistant general sales manager in charge of retail sales, and V. C. Havens, advertising manager.

WINNIPEG, Man. — A strange disease is killing hundreds of wildfowl in the Netley marshes, public shooting grounds at the mouth of the Red river. Hunters returned here said the marshes were strewn with dead ducks and smaller game.

Dog Warden Daniel Butch placed the entire Unity township (where Mrs. Heck's death occurred) under quarantine yesterday.

The rabies cases in the county are reported being watched closely by Dr. Seward Harris, of Lisbon, county health commissioner. The serum for immunizing the East Palestine persons was secured from the state through him. It is given free to all desiring it.

Native of Columbiana

Mrs. Heck was born at Columbiana, Sept. 12, 1897, the daughter of William and Lilly Pesler of Columbiana. Besides her parents, she is survived by her husband and three daughters, Eleanor, Lucille and Miriam, all of the home, and a sister, Mrs. Homer Felger, of the New Waterford-East Palestine road. Mr. Heck is a carpenter. The funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the home in charge of Rev. D. Porter Williams, pastor of the East Palestine Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Glenview cemetery.

Druffel Prepared To Take Judgeship

CINCINNATI, Sept. 26.—Besieged with the congratulations of friends, Common Pleas Judge John H. Druffel prepared today to assume his new post as third judge in the southern Ohio district federal court.

The appointment was announced as President Roosevelt left Washington on a two-weeks tour of the west.

"Needless to say, I'm greatly honored and pleased," Druffel said, adding he probably would resign from the common pleas bench "as soon as I talk with Governor Davey."

This, he indicated, would be within the next two weeks.

Druffel, 51, and the father of four children, began his study of law in a Y. M. C. A. night school while working in the office of the county prosecutor.

A native Cincinnati, he is of medium height, stockily built, with graying hair and a scholarly mien.

The appointment was made under a bill passed in the last days of congress approving a third judge for the southern Ohio district.

Other judges in the district are Mel G. Underwood of Columbus and Robert R. Nevin of Dayton.

QUAKER ELEVEN OUTWEIGHS FOE BY BIG MARGIN

Salem Forward Wall To Have 20 Pounds A Man Advantage

If it's weight that counts, Salem High school's Quakers figure to get off to a good start in their opening game of the 1937 football season out at Reilly stadium at 8 tonight.

A line averaging an even 170 pounds, and a backfield averaging 165 is slated to get the starting call for the Quakers, who will be coached by Coach James Hostettler's Sebring McKinley High grad.

The probable starting line, as indicated by Coach Carl Schroeder's first string lineup in a final practice session under the lights at the stadium last night, will be: Mike Camper, who weighs 155 pounds, at center; Harold Fitzsimmons, 195, and Charles Wentz, 160, at guards; Bob Kirchgessner, 183, and Leonard Bonnell, 176, at tackles and Bill Schaeffer, 170, and Julius Nestor, 158, at ends.

The starting backfield is expected to be Bud Dean, 156, at quarterback; Oliver Olen, 158, at left halfback; Bill Malloy, 150, at right halfback and Max Lutsch, 182, at fullback.

The Quakers' forward wall, one of the heaviest in local football history, will outweigh Sebring 20 pounds to the man, while the Salem backfield will be 17 pounds a man heavier than the Sebring backs.

The Sebring starting lineup, hampered to some extent by the absence of three players who were injured in an auto accident last week, will have Emil Schneider, 137, and Bill Miller, 143, at ends; Wilmet Schellenberger, 164, and Henry Huttmacher, 180, at tackles; Audley Campbell, 143, and Dale Beckett, 145, at guards; James Carman, 141, at center and Don Abmyer, 140, at left halfback. Sebring's line will be: Bennett, 129, Sonny Campbell, 155, and James Williams, 162, in the backfield.

Bennett is one of the four youths who were injured in the accident which robbed Coach Hostettler of the services of three lettermen. Wade Rittenhouse, Bob Cardinal and Bob Faulkner.

Suffering mildly from shock and a few minor cuts, Bennett reported for practice this week and has shown that he will be able to get into action despite the accident.

Sebring will be after its second straight win over the Quakers in the contest, which is the fourth to be played between the two schools.

The Quakers and Sebring have each won one of the previous games, while the other ended in a scoreless tie.

The McKinley High school band, starting its second year, will accompany the team here. It will be the first out-of-town trip the Sebring musicians have made.

Nine Ohio College Teams Open Grid Seasons Today

Seventeen More Outfits Open Campaigns Tomorrow; Ohio University Meets Illinois

(By Associated Press)
This is "gloomy Friday" for Ohio's college football coaches.

The approach of even an ordinary game is enough to send most of them rushing for a "frownette."
(Note: The frownette is a legendary device of metal, with several grooves. Clamped against the forehead, it assures a frown.)

But the start of the whole season is even worse. And nine Ohio college outfits open their campaigns tonight. Seventeen more do it tomorrow.

Don Peden may have a reason, but the Ohio university mentor couldn't see much hope for a victory at Illinois. Ohio U. surprised the Illini a couple of years ago.

Oberlin's coach Butler was another likely prospect for the frown gadget. His husky sophomore tackle, Bill Swartz, tripped over a scholastic hurdle as injuries kept three freshmen backs on the practice sidelines.

FIGHT CHAMPS SPLIT HONORS

Boxers and Jacobs Break Even In Carnival of Ring Champions

NEW YORK, Sept. 24. — Three championship prize fights in one night, while a laudable enterprise on the part of any promoter, seems at this writing to be at least one championship prizefight too many. Especially if each of them goes the limit of 15 rounds without a knockdown.

Thirty-two thousand, six hundred patrons sat through last night's pugilistic extravaganza at the Polo Grounds, and when they finally stumbled out of the place some time this morning they were wondering if the new fist czar, Mike Jacobs, hadn't perhaps been guilty of choking them with cream.

Barney Ross, a welterweight champion with a heart the size of a pumpkin, saved an otherwise uninspiring spectacle with a close and gory victory over Ceferino Garcia, challenger from the Philippines. It would have been a great fight had it stood alone.

Harry Jeffra, a clean-cut lad from Baltimore added a final filip when it was badly needed by winning the bantamweight championship of the world from little Sixto Escobar of Puerto Rico, on points. The bout between Lou Ambers, rugged lightweight champion, and Pedro Montez, a rashly over-exploded young fellow who owns a bar in Harlem, was the one that curled up. Ambers gave him an awful going-over in close, and it was a dreary thing to watch.

Marcel Thil, the bald Frenchman, made a hit in the night's initial turn before he suffered a serious cut on his right eyelid and was declared the loser to Fred Apostoli of San Francisco early in the tenth round. The burly Marcel had a clear lead on points at the time Apostoli stabbed him and the blood began to spurt.

Apostoli, so far as anybody knows for certain, doesn't hold any more championships now than he did before.

Jeffra undoubtedly is the happiest of the winners. He beamed like an army searchlight when he had finished trimming Escobar and the announcer had hailed "the new champion." He deserved the verdict by a wide margin, winning something like nine rounds to Escobar's two.

Ross and Garcia gave the crowd a grand fight, and it was close right to the finish. The champion, fighting brilliantly in spurts, piled up a sufficient lead in the first ten rounds to offset the Filipino's determined offensive toward the last.

With one exception—Marietta vs. Morris Harver at Charleston, W. Va.—tonight's five Ohio tilts are strictly Buckeye affairs.
Dayton invades Wittenberg. Otterbein is at Muskingum, Ashland meets Heidelberg at Tiffin and Defiance goes against Denison at Granville.
Tomorrow's features are Texas Christian at Ohio State, Western Reserve at Cincinnati, Case at Lehigh, Ohio U.'s invasion of Illinois, and Ohio Wesleyan at Pittsburgh.
One coach who wasn't worried about the morrow was Harry Geltz at Mount Union. He said his grid machine was prepared for its opener against Adrian (Mich.) college at Adrian, not long removed from Ohio conference competition, planned to use eight sophomores—five linemen and three backs—against West Virginia Teachers.
Wesleyan's squad was ordered to walk part way to Pittsburgh. George Gather said the bus would stop, the players would get out and walk a mile, then they'd ride again. The purpose: to loosen their muscles.
Bill Edwards, Reserve's coach, took his squad to Springfield for a workout before the tilt with Cincinnati, in which the Red Cats' record of 23 games without defeat is on the block.
They were happier at Case since Harold Anderson, a junior guard believed ineligible, made up a scholastic deficiency and was ready for the trip to Bethlehem, Pa.
At least three sophs were scheduled for starting duty against Kent State tomorrow for the revamped Baldwin-Wallace aerial circus.

BUCKEYES FACE RAZZLE-DAZZLE OF TEXAS TEAM

Horned Frogs of T. C. U. Arrive In Capital for Grid Tilt

COLUMBUS, Sept. 24. — Texas University's "Horned Frogs"—41 of them—arrived in Ohio's capital today determined to give the Ohio State proteges of their former coach, Francis A. Schmidt, a lesson in how wide-open football should be played.

The Bucks and the Frogs meet Saturday afternoon in Ohio stadium and a real "razzle-dazzle" contest is on the books as both teams feature the "sleight-of-hand" type of offense.

Stacking up as an "even-steppin'" battle, the game should be a thriller for the crowd of close to 75,000, one of the largest opening day throngs in Buckeye history.

The invaders have a slight edge in the forward wall with a 204-pound average while the Bucks tip the beam at about 198. In the ball-toting department Ohio has a 10-pound advantage, the visitors averaging 172 to 182 for the Buckeyes.

The Bucks probably possess more power than the 1936 team which won five and lost three but they have failed to display the ball-handling ability and elusiveness of last year's troops.

For the first time in years Ohio goes into a season without players two or three deep in each position, and it is on that reserve strength question that the season's success hinges.

To make up for the lost stars and equalize his strength a bit Coach Schmidt moved his 1936 fullback, Co-Captain Jim McDonald, to quarterback, and shifted Charley Ream, one of last year's tackles, to end.

Each team will start 10 lettermen and one non-letterman. Tackle Karl Kaplanoff being the newcomer in the Buckeye ranks, and End Charles Mabry, a six-foot six-inch 205-pounder, the "recruit" in the Horned Frog lineup.

The Frogs planned an hour's "loosening up" exercise on the stadium turf at 2 p. m., after which the Bucks were to go through their final paces, a signal drill. Tonight the Frogs were to be housed high up in a hotel, while the Bucks were COLUMBUS, Sept. 24.—Surprised squirrels will fall or run tomorrow before the opening barrage of a 27,500,000-shot Ohio hunting season.

The state conservation division, estimating that 550,000 hunters would burn a million dollars worth of shotgun shells before Jan. 1, reported a scarcity of squirrel because of a food shortage last year.
The big attraction for Buckeye gunners will be rabbits. Before that six-week season is over New Year's day, the division forecast, 750 tons of lead will have been shot and $6,000,000 spent for the fun of banging away at four-footed and winged game.

The squirrel season continues through Oct. 10 with a bag limit of four per day or eight in possession after the first day. Rabbit hunting opens Nov. 15, continuing through Jan. 1 with a limit of five daily.

Cock pheasants may be shot Nov. 15 through Nov. 25. The bag limit is two a day or four in possession. The waterfowl season opens Oct. 9 and continues to Nov. 7. A duck hunter must obtain a federal duck stamp in addition to an Ohio hunting license.

The conservation division reported it expected a 10 per cent increase in the number of hunters to boost license sales to more than $500,000. Hunting conditions, with the exception of squirrel, will be better than for many years, it predicted.

Howell Goes Out On Limb To Pick Gridiron Winners

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Sept. 24.—The melancholy days (for the football experts) are come again . . . when setups are prone to turn in upsets . . . and favorites are prone to end up that way.

Picking opening game winners is a precarious proposition, with nothing to base selections on except last year's record . . . optimistic or pessimistic reports from press agents . . . a hasty glance into a crystal . . . and a bit of hope.

But everybody's doing it, so we'll get into the game, too . . . and here's how our hunches say this weekend's contests will finish:

Friday—Dayton over Wittenberg, Muskingum over Otterbein, Heidelberg over Ashland, Denison over Defiance, and Marietta over Morris-Harvey.

Saturday—Texas Christian-Ohio State a toss-up, or the Bucks by a nose; Pittsburgh over Ohio Wesleyan by about 25 points; Illinois over Ohio university by two touchdowns; Baldwin-Wallace over Kent State; Western Reserve over Cincinnati; Lehigh over Case by a touchdown; Bowling Green over Hiram; Detroit Tech over Capital; Miami U. over Alma in a close one; Toledo over Bluffton (watch those rockets this year); Mt. Union over Adrian; Akron's small (numerical) squad over West Virginia State Teachers; Transylvania over Xavier in a game that looms as a toss-up; and Georgetown over Alfred Holbrook.

Picking the winners is not the only grief that comes these fall days to the boys who write the football news . . . and just to pick a case at random . . . let's hop over to Bellaire High school . . . where Coach Albert H. (Big Sleepy) Glenn hopes to have another of his bone-crusher eleven.

Imagine sitting in the press box . . . handling Bellaire games . . . with names like these bobbing in and out of the lineup: Krusensky, Kaliesienski, Obidjenski, Sadowski, Malatinsky, Accrocco, Ciacometti, But the Bellaire old-timers . . . having lived through such names as Olejczak:

to go to a Country club. Texas Christian's 50-piece "swing" band came along, but will be housed in its Pullmans.
The game starts at 2 p. m.

ANOTHER SMART USED CAR BUYER

As Gordon Sewell, plasterer, points out, it is no longer necessary to be an expert on cars in order to get a good, dependable used car at a low price.
"I admit I know but little about automobiles," says Mr. Sewell, "yet I got just the kind of a used car I wanted—and at my own figure, too. You see, I made it a point to get a 'Dependability Seal' car from a Dodge dealer. As a matter of fact, I noticed the car advertised in the classified columns of the paper. When I found out that it was one of the Dodge dealer's 'Dependability Seal' cars and carried the Triple-Checked Tag which gave all the facts about the car's condition, I knew it was the car for me. 'I've driven it more than 5000 miles since then and I have found it has been just as dependable and reliable as any new car.'

GIANTS NEARER TO PENNANT IN NATIONAL LOOP

Terrymen Lead Cubs By 3 1/2 Games After Winning Thursday

By SID FEDER

New York's diamond embroidery society got down today to the serious business of winding up its second straight pennant stitching monopoly.

The Yankees, who use bats for needles and homers for thimbles, had the American league flag all sewed up. The Giants, somewhat slower on the fancy work, but apparently heading for the same results, were rapidly completing their hemstitching on the National league flag.

And the embroidery society's very good friends, the Bronx baseball cheering and howler club, was all set to whoop it up in another exclusive civil war of the diamond for little old New York, come world series time, Oct. 6.

The Giants were 3 1/2 games ahead as a result of their win over the Cubs yesterday, and were riding back to the east.

The Giants' victory by an 8 to 7 margin yesterday in the rubber match of the crucial three-game set with the Cubs produced the day's first battle of the lot. Despite a 7-hit New York attack, Terry had to trot out all four of his starting pitchers before the Chicago clouters surrendered. Finally, Lanky Cliff Melvin was called on to save the day. He retired the final two Cub batters in the ninth, with one run in and the tying and winning runs on base. Although he lasted less than two innings, Carl Hubbell was given official credit for the victory, his 21st of the year.

The Yankees, meantime, although taking a 9-5 beating themselves at the hands of the St. Louis Browns, had the pleasure of watching an old ex-Yankee, Ben Chapman, clinch the American league pennant for them. Chapman, hit a homer with two on in the ninth inning, which gave the Boston Red Sox a 4-3 decision over the Detroit Tigers, and eliminated the second-place Detroit from the pennant chase.

The win boosted the Red Sox back into fourth place in the Plans were discussed for increasing the league in size by issuing invitations to Columbia and Lisbon duckpin bowlers to place four more teams in the loop.

The Class A National Tenpin league, preparing to open its season next Tuesday night, met at the Masonic temple last night and raised its entrance fee from $5 to $10.

Two vacancies in league membership will probably be filled by next week, it was announced.
Six teams are already affiliated with the league and the two open spots are expected to be filled by a team captained by Charles West and another outfit from the Youngstown Pressed Steel of Warren.

Since there are no bowling leagues in Warren and employees of the Pressed Steel plant draw their pay from the Mullins Co. here, captains of league teams decided to permit the Warren company to enter a team.

BOWLING RESULTS

Only two teams were able to win three games as the Commercial Handicap Bowling league started off on its 1937-38 schedule at the Grate Recreation alleys last night.

The two outfits winning all three heats of their matches were the Crescent Machine Shop of Leontonia and the Sinclairs. The former took the measure of the Salem Engineering Co., while the latter trimmed the Salem Polo club.

The Salem News and Grate Recreation teams staged the heaviest match of the evening with the Newsies finally winning two out of three games. The defending champions of the league won the first game by 18 pins, lost the second by 12 pins and won the third by two pins.

Ralph Phillips paced the losing Recreation team and set two splendid high scores for bowlers to shoot at, rolling a 225 single game and a 599 series.

Other matches saw Berg Bretzels of Leontonia defeat the Salem Savans in two out of three; Merit Shoes take two of three from the Ohio Bell and Smith's Creamery win two trials from the People's Lumber.

The Electric Furnace and Bliss leagues were in action at the Masonic temple alleys last night, the Bliss circuit for the first time of the season. The Furnace league opened its campaign last week.

The Tigers and Bears each won two out of three games in the Furnace league, while Schmidt's and the Machine Shop gained two victories in the Bliss loop.

GIANTS NEARER

American league. The Cleveland Indians, finding Washington's rookies too much for them, were beaten, 3-2, and sank to fifth.

Jim Turner hurled No. 19 as the Boston Bees nosed out the Pirates, 2-1. Don Padgett hit a homer and two triples and led the Cardinals... to an 8-4 win over the Brook... lyn Dodgers. Dolph Camilli's homer with the bases loaded gave the Phillies a 9-5 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds, who used 22 players for a new National league record.</

"THE CAPTIVE BRIDE"

by BARRETT WILLOUGHBY

CHAPTER LIV

"Well, Miss Denise, we'll certainly miss you this summer," Harp said, after a constrained silence. "But—you'll have Rio." She wondered why she said that. "Oh, yes, Rio." He spoke without enthusiasm. "She's really not so bad, I guess," Harp went on. "Last night, now, we had sort of a heart-to-heart talk."

Denny heard him only vaguely. She was straining every sense for the sound of footsteps in the hall, hoping, even in her hopelessness, that Bourne might come to say good-by.

Harp was droning on. "Said she used to think she had to be out every night, eating dinners, drinking and dancing, in order to have a good time. But now—well, she's decided she wants a home and a man of her own. A domestic layout, sort of."

Denny started, suddenly alert to what Harp was saying. His words, coupled with his peculiar behavior, brought a sudden realization that he might be trying to tell her that Rio had decided to go in for River House and Revelry Bourne, and he didn't quite know how to break the news.

"Yes, Harp," she said, steeling herself for the blow. "She figures on making herself into the kind of woman he likes. And she's so sure she can do it that she's staking what's left of her bank roll on going out to hunt with him this fall and being so darned nice and—er—sort of romantic and regular that he'll—well, he'll really fall for her and—Oh, well! You know what I mean, Miss Denise."

"Good heavens!" Denny jumped up and placed herself before him. "I don't know what you mean! He? Whom are you talking about?" "This guy, Porter Hammet. She's going for him in a big way. Aims to marry him and stick to him, all respectable and stuff like that."

Denny drew a long, quivering breath of comprehension; then broke into a hysterical laugh. "Harp! You idiot! You blundering, darling, blessed old idiot—why didn't you say so in the first place!"

The whistle of the liner, long and deep and low, reverberated through the village. The half-hour whistle, thought Denny, and her heart seemed to drop through endless space. She could hear the tourists in the street below hurrying back to the ship. Bourne was not coming. He was going to let her go aboard without even saying good-by.

She was scarcely aware that Harp was on his feet. Well, Miss Denise, I guess I'll trot along. You'll be wanting to get your knick-knacks ready to go down to the boat."

Still he did not say good-by. He stood looking at her as if he wanted to tell her something, but didn't quite dare. She forced her attention back to him.

"Miss Denise—I'm just going to tell you this, although the skipper didn't want you to know—didn't want to make you feel bad just when you were going off for a holiday. But—that's why he's late getting here. Been firing telegrams to Tarnigan ever since the Maid docked, trying to get the truth of it. Miss Denise—River House burned down this morning—after we left."

A pricking chill swept over Denny. "River House—burned? Oh, no, Harp! I can't believe it! I won't believe it! You must be mistaken."

"It's true," Harp's chin was quivering. "Commander wired Rev. River House is gone. Rio—she must have dropped one of her confounded cigarettes in her room just before we all came down to the Maid this morning. When they went back—the whole upper story was in flames."

Denny stood rigid, her wide, stricken eyes filled with her last vision of River House on its terrace—the sturdy log walls, the sweep of the green roof, the dormer windows bathed in the flush of the rising sun. Vaguely she heard Harp telling her details. "... formed a bucket brigade. And saved the portraits of Larry Keith and your mother. And the old piano and silver. That's all."

Presently, through her daze, she became aware that he was patting her shoulder in silent sympathy. "He was holding out his small, muscular hand. 'I got to go now, Miss. She took his fingers mechanically, looking up at him. "Good-by, Harp. You've been wonderfully kind to me—always."

"Good-by... and God bless you, Miss Denise."

She was alone. The room was very still; so still she could hear the faint ticking of her wrist watch. "River House—gone!" The words kept surging through her mind. River House, into the building of which had been woven all the love and hope of her father's life. She had felt that from the first moment she stepped across its threshold ten months ago. Felt his silent welcome in its spacious rooms; felt his spirit all about it, through it. Under its broad, protecting roof she had known the most intense, soul-stirring months of her life—the only period of her existence, it seemed to her, during which she had really lived. And in the very hour when she came to realize how much she loved it, fire had wiped it out; reduced it to ashes—the only connecting link with the warm, bright spirit of the man who was her father...

But—was it really the only link? She drew herself up suddenly, her eyes seeing the sweep of the Stikine flowing down past Tarnigan. "It rises in dreams and flows straight through a man's heart, Denny darling." He had told her that before her baby lips could form the word Stikine. And it was still flowing—his protean, many-river that had won and held him all his life. It was a link so alive, so powerful, that nothing could destroy it.

She knew, now that he had summoned her north, hoping it might win her also. And it had. Despite Sylvia; despite her own self. And it had molded her destiny from that first summer night in the grove when, under its spell, she had gone into Revelry Bourne's arms.

It rises into dreams and flows straight through—my heart," she thought sadly. "But when I want to stay—it lets me go—just as Revelry Bourne is letting me go. I—"

The sound of the steamer's fifteen-minute whistle brought her sharply back to the present. Only a quarter of an hour before she sailed. It was useless to wait longer. He was not coming. She might as well call the office and ask for a boy to carry her bags down to the dock.

She put on her hat and was crossing to the wall telephone when hurried steps came down the hall. There was a quick rap at her door. "Come on," she called.

Bourne entered, his eyes seeking hers. He smiled—a charming, friendly smile. Nothing more.

"Good!" he said briskly. "You're all ready to go. But we have plenty of time, Denise."

Plenty of time—fifteen minutes—and she would be gone out of his life forever. She commanded her ruthlessness, its bounty. He was pride and returned his smile. Oh, yes. Plenty of time," she repeated. Before I forget, I must congratulate you on winning the race, Captain. You were wonderful—ruthless, cruel—but wonderful."

"It wasn't a bad race. Still—" he grinned—"you must remember that the commonplaces of Stikine navigation have a way of looking like heroics to outsiders."

"But you always win in the end, don't you?"

"Not always. This was the closest call I ever had in my life. I was totally unprepared for that wrecked engine."

"Revelry," she said impulsively. "Tell me—why did you jeopardize everything you owned in a race with a man like Page?"

"It was a moment before he answered. 'I admit, it did look like an asinine gesture on the surface. But, you see, it was my last, desperate play to win something infinitely greater than the apparent issue. My last play to win the greatest stake in the world.'"

"And did you win it?"

"I'm not quite sure, yet. All my life I've been taking chances with White Water—and winning, until you came along. Then—well, I ran up against a bit that rather had me beat." He gave her a long look. "Denny, tell me—did I win today?"

She felt the blood leaving her body and rushing back again. White Water—that's what he had called her. Suddenly all his seemingly unrelated and puzzling actions since their marriage came together forming a pattern. Yet she couldn't quite believe what this implied.

"Did you go into this race thinking—that if I saw everything in danger of being snatched away from the Keiths and the Bournes, I'd wake up to the fact that my heart is—in the North?"

"Something like that."

Denny stood looking at the slim riverman before her—inquiet and powerful and sure of himself; his dark-gold hair sweeping back from his face; his eyes that could change like water under the wind; his bold nose that just escaped being predatory; his lips that held kindness and a hint of cruelty. He was ugly. He was beautiful. He was the Stikine with all its wild charm, its something that made life full and marvelous and intense. "You—you gambler," she said gently. "You've been a brute to me."

"Yes, but it was the only way—with you." His eyes had grown tender with the poignant blue light she had been trying to place for so long. But she placed it now. It was thus he had looked down at Tongass, after he had felled him with a blow from his own hand. And Harp had defended him against Rio: "It isn't every man who has the courage to be a brute to the thing he loves—when he knows it's necessary."

She lifted her chin and laughed without rancor. "Can it be that there's truth in the saying, 'A woman, a dog, and a walnut tree—'"

"Mrs. Bourne!" The hotel proprietor's urgent call and his pounding on the door checked her. "You'll have to hurry to catch your boat. Give me your baggage and I'll take it down—"

"Never mind, thank you," she called back. "I'll attend to it myself."

Bourne snatched up her bags. "Come along, Denny. We'll finish this talk on the steamer. I'm going with you as far as Ketchikan."

"No," she said decisively. His face fell. She whipped off her hat and sent it sailing gaily toward the bed. "I'm not going even as far as Ketchikan. I'm going back home—with you."

He dropped her bags with a thump and took an eager step toward her; then stopped. "Home," he repeated, with sudden gravity. "Denny, you'll have to know. River

House is—" "Yes, I know. Harp told me. But it will still be home. I'll live in a shack—in a tent—any old place this summer, while a Keith and a Bourne rebuild River House—together."

"Denny! You mean it? You mean that our channel is clear at last?" "All clear, except—" she hesitated—"except for one thing, Revelry. Your 'ideal woman'—the woman whose picture you carry in your breast pocket. She—"

He was already pressing the photograph folder into her hands. "Open it, little dark child."

She did so. On one side was the picture of a tiny girl, aged five, a pup in her arms and one pantie leg hanging down. On the other, a snapshot Harp had taken—a girl with blowing hair standing on the sun deck of the Stikine Maid.

A fierce, sweet glow of comprehension swam through her. "It was me?" she exclaimed in ungrammatical wonder, looking up at him. "Me? All the time?" "You—always." His voice was not quite steady. "Tell me, now, White Water, do I win—the greatest stake in the world?"

She stood gazing at him, unmindful of Tongass, imperatively pawing the closed door for admittance; unmindful of the farewell whistle of the coast liner, heading south across the bay. "You won," she replied slowly, remembering, voicing the truth she had been putting from her for the past ten months, "you won—that first night in the grove by the river."

THE END

ANOTHER SMART USED CAR BUYER

Motorists who are in the market for a good, dependable used car at a low price will certainly be interested in the experience of Carl Russ, winner of the "Dependability Seal" contest. "The first thing I did when I made up my mind to invest in a used car," says Mr. Russ, "was to turn to the Dodge dealers' classified ads in the newspaper. I knew that Dodge dealers were taking in an unusual number of used cars in trade and that they'd naturally have a wide selection to choose from. "Then by buying under the Dodge dealers' 'Dependability Seal' plan I would be absolutely sure of getting a reliable car. As I discovered, every 'Dependability Seal' car carries a Triple-Checked Tag that gives all the facts about the condition of the car right down in black and white. Well, I got just the car I wanted and I've been driving it every day and it runs like a top!"

HARD WATER

IS RUINING YOUR COMPLEXION!

Hard-water clogs up the tiny pores in your skin with the same gummy film that clouds your dishes and leaves a ring around the bath-tub.

Hard water is ruining your budget, too. It clogs the water-heater and pipes with scale, and leads to unnecessary plumbing bills. It wastes soap and shortens the life of linens.

You can actually count the dollars that soft water will save you. These savings are more than enough to pay for water softening equipment.

Send for our free booklet, "The Magic of Wonder-Soft Water," which will tell you the whole story. And, we'll be glad to lend you a portable model for two days' trial.

Gorman Appointed To High Court Post

COLUMBUS, Sept. 24.—Common Pleas Judge Robert N. Gorman of Cincinnati was named to fill an Ohio supreme court vacancy by Gov. Martin L. Davey today.

Davey announced the selection before leaving here for speaking engagements at Coshocton and Akron. He said Judge Gorman accepted the offer of the judgeship in a telephone conversation last night.

GREENFORD

The Willing Workers class was entertained by Mrs. Inetta Slagle and daughters Thursday evening. Mrs. Melissa Charlton, 85, was the oldest person present and Marilyn Slagle, six months, the youngest. Mrs. W. Walters and Mrs. Mina Rhodes had charge of the contest. Lunch was served to 31. The Oct. 21 meeting will be held with Mrs. Charlotte Slagle.

An eight-pound daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Allan Coy, Sunday.

Honor Recent Bride

A shower of gifts was tendered Mrs. George Gottschling Friday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Calvin.

Ray Calvin has purchased the property owned by Mrs. Clement Vallandigham, of Lisbon, and will move there next month.

Sunday visitors at C. L. Schaefer's home were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wagner, Struthers, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lipp and daughter, Dorothy, New Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Schaefer, Salem rd., Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Houts and daughter Janet Elaine.

Returns to Greenford

Mrs. Clay, after spending four months with her sister at E. Lewis town, has returned to Greenford.

Farm Bureau officers gave Robert Kenreich a farewell party Friday evening at the grange hall. Robert returns to his college work at Ohio State university in a few days.

Robert and Katharine Kenreich spent Saturday and Sunday in Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Bierman and Mrs. Susannah Esterly, Columbiana, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Kenreich.

Visiting Sisters
Mr. and Mrs. Earl Weikart, Apollo, Pa., are visiting his sister, Mrs. J. A. Clay.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dinmore

and Mr. and Mrs. Al Taylor were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Dressel and sons visited Mr. and Mrs. Dave Dressel, Youngstown, Sunday.

Earl and Edward Slagle spent the weekend at the home of Cliff Slagle, Poland.

Mrs. Grace Childes, Mrs. Jenny Bartley and Mrs. Mary Childes, Girard, and Mrs. Nora Bailey, E. Lordstown, called on Mrs. Dora Clay, Sunday afternoon.

THE LIFE OF THE Party

He Disliked Books

Because he couldn't see as he should. He could not read or study for any length of time without suffering in consequence, hence he took the natural course and rebelled. This happens with many school children. Don't blame a child for what he cannot help. Be modern and have his eyes looked after. A helpful service here for children as well as adults.
